

Jeremy turned to him with a kind voice, "Once you experience it in your heart you KNOW it's real, but Jesus knows that we can't remember it all at once so He promised us a very special Helper."

"Sounds like we got Halloween treats," said little Sheri, rubbing her tummy uncomfortably, "But you got Treasures from Jesus - stuff that lasts and lasts forever."

"Yes!" said Julie triumphantly.

"Right," said Jeremy. "Jesus gives treasures to anyone who asks Him!"

LASTING Treasures from Jesus

LASTING Treasures from Jesus

"Yay, recess!" It was the morning after Halloween. The primary and junior grade students burst out of the school door onto the playground. But instead of playing hard on the swings and the gym bars, many of the children sat down in clusters and pulled candies out of their pockets.

Duke and Eric, boys who didn't care if they were caught by the teacher, carried out their plastic pumpkins. They stood comparing what kinds of candies and treats they had. Other children gathered around them to see and to show them what they had in their pockets.

Some of them wanted to trade, so they headed for the picnic table. Jeremy and Julie, a brother and sister, were already there, each with a little booklet in their hands. They were reciting to each other.

As the noisy children compared and traded treats, Sheri, one thin girl, felt sorry for Jeremy and Julie. "Didn't you get any treats last night?" she asked.

Jesus said to him, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me. If you had known Me, you would have known My Father also; and from now on you know Him and have seen Him." (John 14:6-7)

"Does Father mean God?" asked Sheri quietly.

"Yes!" said Julie and Jeremy together.

Julie added, "Whatever we learn about Jesus, (and lots of people saw Him and talked with Him when He was on earth), all that is true of Jesus is true of God too."

"By praying," explained Jeremy, "We can get to know Jesus and talk with Him all the time. When we read His words in the Bible or this Gospel of John, Jesus talks to us!"

"Who can remember all that?" asked Duke, shrugging his shoulders as if he had turned shy. "You can't see it."
