

My Decision

Lord Jesus, I know that I am a sinner. I believe that you died for me. I now take You as my personal Saviour. I am sorry for my sins. With Your help, I intend to confess You as my Lord before others.

Thank You for saving me and preparing me for Heaven.

Date prayed _____

Name _____ Age _____

Mailing address _____

Town _____ Prov/State _____

Postal/Zip Code _____

Email address _____

For further help send this page to:

The Mailbox Club
401 -33rd Street West
Saskatoon, SK. S7L 0V5

Printed in Canada by
Western Tract Mission, Inc.
www.westerntractmission.org

01/09

Ruby's Question

A TRUE STORY

“Ruby, are you a Christian?” Ruby was a ten-year-old friend of mine.

“I do not know,” she answered.

“Are you saved?” I asked. Again, she said, “I do not know.”

“Well, how can you be saved?” I asked.

“By being good.”

“How good do you have to be?”

“Awful good.”

“How awfully good?” I asked.

“Awful awful good,” she said with deep earnestness.

“Are you that good?”

My Decision

Lord Jesus, I know that I am a sinner. I believe that you died for me. I now take You as my personal Saviour. I am sorry for my sins. With Your help, I intend to confess You as my Lord before others.

Thank You for saving me and preparing me for Heaven.

Date prayed _____

Name _____ Age _____

Mailing address _____

Town _____ Prov/State _____

Postal/Zip Code _____

Email address _____

For further help send this page to:

The Mailbox Club
401 -33rd Street West
Saskatoon, SK. S7L 0V5

Printed in Canada by
Western Tract Mission, Inc.
www.westerntractmission.org

01/09

Ruby's Question

A TRUE STORY

“Ruby, are you a Christian?” Ruby was a ten-year-old friend of mine.

“I do not know,” she answered.

“Are you saved?” I asked. Again, she said, “I do not know.”

“Well, how can you be saved?” I asked.

“By being good.”

“How good do you have to be?”

“Awful good.”

“How awfully good?” I asked.

“Awful awful good,” she said with deep earnestness.

“Are you that good?”

"I guess you are not saved then," I replied. She hung her head," I guess I'm not." "I'm not good either," I said.

Ruby's eyes grew big and I could see she was thinking deeply. I was her minister. If, as she said, one had to be awful awful good to be a Christian, and if the minister was not saved, who was saved anyway? Ruby began to see that her idea of being saved must be wrong.

Now Ruby asked her big question. It was; "How then do we get saved?"

I gave her the only answer to her question. It is found in the Bible, which is God's Word. I showed her that all of us have sinned and we could never be good enough to save ourselves.

Then I told her that God loved us so much He sent Jesus, His only Son, to die for our sins, and when Jesus died on the cross, God laid our sins on Him.

"Ruby, God's Word tells us that if you will receive Jesus as your own Saviour you will be saved at once. Salvation is a free gift which only need to be received by any sinner. This makes him a Christian," I said, "and then, after we are saved, God will work in us to make us good."

When Ruby understood all this a glad look came into her eyes, for she saw that she could be saved at once.

Then I asked her if she would accept the Lord Jesus Christ. This she did gladly with all her heart.

I did not see Ruby again for nine years. I did not hear anything about her. Then one evening I met her when she was a young woman of nineteen. She was sure she was saved, and just as sure it happened that day when she was ten.

Would you like to accept the free gift too and receive the Lord Jesus as your personal Saviour and Lord?

John 1:12 says, "But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name."

"I guess you are not saved then," I replied. She hung her head," I guess I'm not." "I'm not good either," I said.

Ruby's eyes grew big and I could see she was thinking deeply. I was her minister. If, as she said, one had to be awful awful good to be a Christian, and if the minister was not saved, who was saved anyway? Ruby began to see that her idea of being saved must be wrong.

Now Ruby asked her big question. It was; "How then do we get saved?"

I gave her the only answer to her question. It is found in the Bible, which is God's Word. I showed her that all of us have sinned and we could never be good enough to save ourselves.

Then I told her that God loved us so much He sent Jesus, His only Son, to die for our sins, and when Jesus died on the cross, God laid our sins on Him.

"Ruby, God's Word tells us that if you will receive Jesus as your own Saviour you will be saved at once. Salvation is a free gift which only need to be received by any sinner. This makes him a Christian," I said, "and then, after we are saved, God will work in us to make us good."

When Ruby understood all this a glad look came into her eyes, for she saw that she could be saved at once.

Then I asked her if she would accept the Lord Jesus Christ. This she did gladly with all her heart.

I did not see Ruby again for nine years. I did not hear anything about her. Then one evening I met her when she was a young woman of nineteen. She was sure she was saved, and just as sure it happened that day when she was ten.

Would you like to accept the free gift too and receive the Lord Jesus as your personal Saviour and Lord?

John 1:12 says, "But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name."